DECISION IN ADMIRALTY.

JUNE 14.—Dickinson w. schools Catharine.—This was an action brought by the owners of the sehr. San Louis, to recover the value of their vessel and her cargo, which were wholly lost by a collision with the Catharine, on the evening of the 21st of April, 1852, about twenty-five miles south of Sandy Hook.

By the Court—The San Leuis, bound to Philadelphia, was, at the time of the collision, close hauled on the starboard tack, with the wind about southwest by west, a good sailing breeze. She had a man on the look out and the mate at the wheel, but no light. The night was starlight, and vessels could be seen three quarters of a mile distant. The Catharine was heading in an opposite direction, with a free wind, on the larboard tack, with no one on the look out forward but with a light. No one on the Catharine saw the San Louis until just under her bows, and all hands had just been engaged reefing the mainsail, leaving no one at the wheel. The San Louis kept her course close hauled till just before the collision, when, discovering that the Catharine struck her on her larboard side, head on, and she sunk. According to the rules of navigation the Catharine, having a free wind, was bound to have avoided the collision, and, as no fault is discovered on the part of the San Louis, the libellants are entitled to a decree for their damages, to be ascertained on a reference to a commissioner.

United States Commissioner's Court.

Before Judge W. Morton, Esq.

June 14.—The United States w. John Quin —The defendant, in this case, was second mate of the packet ship Washington and the offence charged against him is, that he assaulted one of the crew named John Hauceck, with a belaying pin. Upen his demand an examination was held as above, at which Mr. James Ridgeway appeared for the government, and D.P. Whedon for defence. The evidence of Hanceck is, that about the 24th of last month he was pulling on a rope near the fore rigging when Quin, without provocation, threw a belaying pin from the top gallant forecastle, which hit Hancock a severe blow on the head, and caused a bad wound and awelling, now looking very sore, and that he has suffered considerably from the effects of that blow. Turee other sailors were called and examined, who corroborated Hancock in every particular. The only witness produced by defence was the ship's doctor, whose testimony did not alter the above facts. He testified that the swelling new upon Hancock's head is the effect of a contused wound, and such as might have been given with a belaying pin. Committed in full.

JUNE 14 — The Broadway railroad case came on for the second day's hearing. The cross examination of Mr. David H Haight occupied nearly half the day, and after it closed several other witnesses were examined on behalf of the plaintiffs, to show the injury to business and con sequently to property, which the construction of a railroad in Broadway would produce. The plaintiff's case will probably be closed to-morrow evening.

FJUNE 14 — William Quinn os Heynolds K. Northrup.—
This was an action for assault and battery. An Inquest had beet taken in the case a few days since, when a verdict was rendered for $50 for plaintiff. On the application of the defendant's counsel, the case was opened again, and the defence set up that the assault was justifiable; that the plaintiff had called the defendant a d—d liar, &c. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff of $50, the same amount as was given at the inquest before the Court.

June 14—The Grand Jury not having arrived in court on this day, no business of any interest was transacted.

CONVICTED.

Grand Larceny—Charles Crout was charged with stealing a bag of silver and some bank bills, valued at forty-three dollars, from a man named Samuel Killinger. It appeared from the evidence of the complainant that the prisonser was arrested about five weeks after the robbery took place, and that a club ticket belonging to the complainant was then found in his possession. The prisoner confessed that he stole the money, but that he was drunk at the time. The jury, without leaving their seats, returned a verdict of guilty.

Attempt to Commit Rape—A rough and ill looking specimen of humanity was placed at the bar, charged with committing an assault, with intent to commit a rape, on a little guil six years of agg, named Jane Il-ley. Her mother and a medical mun were examined, and their evidence leaving not a doubt of his guilt, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The pri-oner then pleaded guilty to an it determent charging him with committing another assault, with intent to commit rape, on the person of a little girl en years of age, named Lumm Whittaker. The court, on proceeding to sentence him, remarked that the crimes of which he was conveted were of the most heinous character. The Judge, therefore, sentenced the prisoner for the State prison at ting Sing.

Grand Larceny.—A respectable young man, named George A. Walker, was found guilty of grand larceny. Frem the evidence it appeared that the prisoner sole $25 in gold, some silver spoons, and some gold pencil cases, out of a drawer in the house of Felix Zeligman, No. 40 Elizabeth street. The prisoner made a long speech, in order to exculpate himself; but the evidence being ratber strong against him, the jury convicted him of the crime. The Judge entenced the prisoner to be imprisoned in the State prison for two years, it being the shertest term the law allowed.

IMPORTANT DECISION AS TO THE RIGHTS OF SEAMEN LEAVING VESSELS ON ARRIVAL.

JUNE 14-Robert Porterfield vs. Stanton & Thompson —

This was an action brought against the defendants as cwners of the ship Liberty, for wages due the plaintiff as second mate of that ship on her late voyage from New Orleans to Havve, and thence to New York. It is shown in evidence that the plaintiff shipped at New Orleans and made the voyage to Havre; that then he went on shore and was absent, without leave, for several days; that he was in the habit of getting intoxicated, but that he was retained in his position, and came with the ship to this city; that on the arrival of the vessel in New York he and the rest of the crew left the ship before she was properly moored to the wharf, and before her cargo was discharged and that they left the vessel without the leave of the captain. Upon this subject, some of the witnesses testified that the captain told the crew to furl the sails, and then go ashore, which they did. The captain testified positively that he gave no such directions, and that the plaintiff and the crew went sahore without his permission. I have no doubt but that the acceptance of the service of the plaintiff by the captain, after his leaving the vessel in Havre, was a waiver of the forfeit ture he incurred, unfer the shipping articles, by such absence. The act of the plaintiff by the captain, is, as claimed by the defendant, under the articles, a forfeiture of his wages. This doctrine is well settled in the case of Webb vs. Duckingful, 13 John. Rep. p. 350, in a case precisely similar to the one before me. Under this decision I must order judgment for the defendants.

PINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONEY MARKET.

TUESDAY, June 14-6 P. M. Tumbay, June 14—6 P. M.

We have nothing new to communicate relative to operations in the stock market. The daily transactions continue to about the same extent, and prices fluctuate so slightly that speculators can hardly squeese out of differences a decent commission. The leading fancies move a little one way or the other every day, but a comparison of prices one week or menth with another, shows a very moderate variation. Two or three per cent will cover the rise and fall of the principal speculative stocks for the past month. This is a state of things entirely contrary to that usually existing in Wall street, and is by no means to that usually existing in Wall street, and is by no means agreeable to those who have, for some time past, been holding on, in anticipation of an active upward movement in the market generally. We see no indications of such an event, but on the contrary there are strong evidences of a decline in some of the most prominent fancies, of an important character. At the first board to day,
New Jersey Zinc declined 1/2 per cent, Phoenix Coal 1/2,
Norwich and Worcester 1/2, Harlem 1/2, Hudson RR 1/2.
Crystal Palace advanced 3 per cent, New Haven RR 1/2.
Morris Canal 1/2, Panama RR 1/2. Illinois Central RR 1/2. There was a sale of McCullock Gold stock at four per cent. This stock is in demand, and holders feel so confident that it is not selling for one quarter part of its value, that there is very little in the market. In view of the prospects of the company, it would be difficult to fix the intrinsic value of the stock. Holders have got their ideas pretty high; but we believe there is a good basis for Parker Vein was the most active coal stock in the list, and closed at a slight improvement. Railroad bonds were in better demand to day, at prices previously current. The talk in the street is to the effect that the Eric Railroad Company will pay a semi-annual dividend of three per ceat, in cash, on the 1st of July. Whether a dividend is paid or not, there will be several resignations among the directors. Some are in favor of a small cash dividend, some in favor of a stock dividend, some in favor of none dividend in cash. Such a division must result in an ex-plosion, and perhaps a dissolution of the present board. A few days will settle this important question. The sales at the Mining board, to-day, were as fol-

The Manassas Copper Company is the name of a new mining association organized for the purpose of working the valuable vein of copper situated in the Blue Ridge, in Fauquier county. Virginia, about seventy miles from Alexandria. This property consists of upwards of nine hundred acres of land, and it is without doubt one of the richest mineral estates in the country. The land is most favorably situated for carrying on mining operations. A railroad is now being cut through the property, at a depth of twenty five to thirty feet below the surface, which has already cut three of the veins. This deep cut will pass through the range of all the veins. The summit of the mine is about eight hundred feet above the base of the railroad, so situated as to offer the greatest facility of drainage, by driving adit levels. The veins on this property are from 1% to 1% miles in length; and some of them can be distinctly traced by their out cropings for one mile in length. In one range of veins on this projecty, the ore consists chiefly of red and black oxides; there is another range of yellow sulphurets. At the summit, a shaft has been sunk within fifteen feet of the boundary line of this property, upwards of twenty feet deep, in which a regular vein, with its perfectly defined walls. has been exposed This vein carries very rich red and black oxidos of ore, with native copper run ning through it. Some specimens from this vein have given as high as eighty-nine per cent of pure copper-There is good water power on the property. The ore can be sent from the mine to Baltimore for $2 per ton, and to New York for $2 50. The mire is a very extensive one and is, by competent judges, believed to be most valuable. A charter has been recently granted by the State of Vir-ginia, so that active mining operations may be commenced immediately.

REPORT OF PROFESSOR BENJ, SILLMAN, JR.
NRW YORK, April 18, 1853.
JOSEPH COWDIN, Esq., President Manassas Copper Com-

New York, April 18 1883.

Joseph Cowdin, Eaq., President Manassas Copper Compasy:—

Six—In compliance with your request, I have visited the property of Thomas S. Hall Eaq., on the Blue Ridge, at Manassas Gap. Fanquier county. Virginia: have examined it in reference to the copper over represented to be found there and an now prepared to report to you;—That the property in question does contain copper ore of good quality, of at least two varieties, and in apparently considerable quantities. That the number of veins showing copper, at present open, is three. Two of these are veits of red oxide of copper, with metallic copper, cutting through clay laves and compact epidote rock, with quarts and asbestos. The veins of red oxide occur upon the lotty bill immediately in the rear of Mr. Hall's house, and at an elevation of some six hundred feet, probably, above the track of the raitroad in the gap celow. These two loces intersect each other, as it appears according to present incications, at a point a few 'est north of the property of Mr. Had, and upon the adjoining setate of Dr. Chiaferro. One of them appears to run murch 30 degrees east, and the other north 70 degrees east. These points have been accertained by pits aunk at reveral place upon the two vision on both the properties just named.

Near and just northeest of the point of supposed intersection is a trial shafe, now bette guink on the property of Dr. Talliaferro. This shaft has out the vein, and has passed through it into the abness below; and it is expected that the class recover the state of the research of the research that the class is at this public to about ten first thick, perhaps twelve deals of the force moreily exclused. The resource that it is a property of the property of the property of the point of supposed intersection in property to be about the first thick, perhaps twelve deals of the force moreily exclused. The resource of the property of the point of a propert been opened at several points upon the surface, by pits suck both upon the property of Mr. Hall, and also upon that of Dr. Talifarro.

A pile of some eight tons (as I judged from simple inspection) of the red oxide gauges is now at the month of the pit, formed of blocks of one whose average yield it would be as to estimate at 20 per cent.

It has never been my fortune before to see anything like these beds of oxide of copper. It is, as you know, a very valuable ore, yielding a larger per centage than any other ore of copper that is worked. Judging from specimens, (of which I have seen many,) it appears to me to be more like some of the Siberian ores than any others with which I am acquainted. The masses of native copper occur, implanted in a similar manner, in the red oxide, and both are accompanied by green malachite or carbonate of copper. The deposit of these ores at Manassa Gap is certainly a very interesting one, and olfers every inducement for an active and thorough exploration and developement.

Considering the facility of access to this property by the railroad leading to Alexandria, the thorough and easy drainage by add levels, due to the peculiar configuration of the country, and the very fiattering prospect of an early return of the outlay in a rich and productive ore, I have no hesitation in giving, as my opinion, that the property can be brought into a productive state at a far less expenditure than is usual in copper mining generally. The region is healthy, well watered, near to fuel, and provided with a soil capable of sustaining a large population, and suited to the growth of all the cereal grains, and particularly adapted to grazing.

It is, perhapa, worthy of romark, that copper ore of various aorts seems to be diffused to a remarkable extent through the recks of this region, even where there are no appearances of a proper lode or very lard and compact graywacke state, upon the summit of the hill above Dr. Talisferro's pit, and half a mile from it. This dissemination was so minute that it woul cent, 27.7 per cent, 14.1 per cent, 8.8 per cent, and 89.1 per cent. At the close of his analysis he says:—

Allow me to congratulate you upon your good fortune in securing a mineral right which promises to be of such value. The above analysis shows that the quality of the ore has not been misrepresented. It would have been easy to have selected pieces which would have given much higher numbers; but I endeavored to get as fair a representation of the probable future yield as possible. I have seen several mines in this country which awakened large expectations; but have never yet seen anything which promised so well as this.

The Manassas Copper Mining Company has been organized with a capital of one million of dollars, represented by one hundred shares, of ten dollars each. It will be
